

Book Publication

Applied Degree Education and the Shape of Things to Come [DOI <https://doi.org/10.1007/978-981-19-9315-2>] [Link], edited by Professor Christina Hong, Deputy Vice President, Education and Quality, Central Queensland University (CQU), Australia, and Professor Will Ma, Professor of Teaching and Learning, School of Arts and Humanities, Tung Wah College, Hong Kong, has been published by Springer Nature on May 22, 2023. This independent volume is part of Springer's Lecture Notes in Education Technology (LNET) [Link] book series.

Book | © 2023

Applied Degree Education and the Shape of Things to Come

Home > Book

Editors: Christina Hong, Will W. K. Ma

Presents the latest developments in applied degree education and the future of education

Engenders interdisciplinary exchange concerning innovation in applied degree education and future education

Shares case studies from a global research community to address the challenges in future education

Part of the book series: Lecture Notes in Educational Technology (LNET)